PROFILE

Ms. Preston is one of the founding partners of the firm. She has an extensive defense practice in the area of professional negligence. She also has significant experience in the defense of products liability claims against the manufacturers of medical devices. Her abilities have been recognized by election as a Fellow of The American College of Trial Lawyers.

Ms. Preston represents hospitals and individual health care practitioners in a wide array of medical and nursing specialties in professional malpractice claims before the Circuit Courts of Maryland, the Superior Court of Washington, D.C. and the United States District Courts for the District of Columbia and Maryland. Representative self-insured institutions and insurance companies whose insureds Ms. Preston has defended include: The University of Maryland Medical System Corporation, Mercy Medical Center, Inc., Bon Secours Health System, Inc., Anne Arundel Medical Center, Inc., Atlantic General Hospital Corp., MedStar-Georgetown Medical Center, Inc., Southern Maryland Hospital, Inc., The Doctors Company, Professional Underwriters Liability Insurance Company, St. Paul Insurance Company/American Continental Insurance Company, Medical Management Group, Arch Insurance Group, Inc., NCRIC, Inc., T.I.G. Specialty Insurance Solutions, and OHIC Insurance Company.

Ms. Preston is responsible for all aspects of case management and the trial of cases. Representative cases she has tried include: personal injury and wrongful death claims alleging failure to diagnose breast cancer; personal injury claims alleging obstetrical or pediatric malpractice resulting in brain damage to infants at or around the time of birth; dual wrongful death claims arising out of a maternal and fetal death from a mother's ruptured spleen; a wrongful death action against a gastroenterologist in which the plaintiff alleged failure to diagnose leiomyosarcoma; a wrongful death action against a family practitioner in which the plaintiff alleged failure to diagnose melanoma; wrongful death cases against hospitals or obstetricians in which the plaintiffs alleged obstetrical malpractice resulting in stillbirth and/or death of pre-term and full-term infants; a wrongful death claim involving an alleged failure to diagnose an aneurysm resulting in rupture; a wrongful death action alleging failure to diagnose and treat squamous cell carcinoma of the scalp resulting in extension to the brain and subsequent death; as well as cases involving general surgery, nursing, radiology, infectious disease and emergency medicine.

Ms. Preston also served on the trial team representing A.H. Robins Co. in product liability suits alleging serious personal injuries arising out of the use of the Dalkon Shield intrauterine device. With two other partners at Goodell, DeVries, Ms. Preston was responsible for an active docket of 450 individual cases in the State of Maryland and Washington, D.C. She developed expert witnesses, handled all phases of pre-trial discovery, and second chaired trials of cases in Maryland and in other jurisdictions.

Ms. Preston has also represented the insureds of general liability carriers with an emphasis in products liability. She was responsible for all phases of pre-trial discovery, including the development of liability and medical expert witnesses, defending and taking depositions and pleading practice, including motions to dismiss, motions to bifurcate, motions for summary judgment and motions in limine. She second chaired jury trials alleging serious personal injury, including quadriplegia and paraplegia, in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland and in the Circuit Courts of Maryland.

After law school, Ms. Preston spent a year and a half as a law clerk to The Honorable Lawrence F. Rodowsky, of the Court of Appeals of Maryland.
